LGBT: A Reactionary Bourgeois Movement

Anyone claiming to be a communist in this day and age has a duty to denounce LGBT as antithetical to the communist movement, and to humanity in general. Any support for the anti-human and anti-family LGBT movement is equivalent to supporting the bourgeoisie in the class struggle. Merely ignoring the LGBT movement is not enough. LGBT identity politics cannot be dismissed as just a distraction from class struggle for it is a key part of the class struggle, serving the side of the bourgeoisie. The promotion of LGBT ideology is a bourgeois weapon used against the masses to detach their sense of morality from material reality by filling their heads with delusional "woke" ideas that attempt to normalise sexual perversion and bourgeois decadence. Furthermore, by associating communists with this degeneracy, the bourgeoisie have succeeded in tarnishing the reputation of communism in the eyes of ordinary sensible people who are rightfully repulsed by the LGBT movement. We communists must wholeheartedly reject LGBT and make this principled stance clear to the masses.

LGBT is completely incompatible with communism and would directly impede the construction of a socialist society. To carry out socialist construction within a country after a communist revolution, population growth is necessary to provide a large, strong, and well educated workforce that is capable of building industry and infrastructure, as well as developing technological and scientific advancements. Thus under socialism, the family unit would be protected and upheld as sacred in order to facilitate reproduction and contribute to population growth. When children are raised by both mother and father in a loving household free from corrupting influences, they will grow up to be well-adjusted people who are emotionally and mentally stable, and therefore capable of contributing to the construction of socialist society. In such a collectivist society, where familial bonds are cherished and the population are all engaged in productive labour, there is no way for misanthropic mental illnesses such as homosexuality and transgenderism to take root.

These mental illnesses flourish under capitalism because capitalist society encourages individualism at the expense of the collective. People who identify as LGBT prioritise their own selfish desires over the wellbeing of their nation. Due to the misanthropic nature of their beliefs, LGBT people refuse to start families instead choosing to partake in hedonistic lifestyles full of bourgeois decadence and degeneracy. They forsake their nation in favour of their artificial LGBT identity, similar to what the Jews do by clinging onto their fake religious identity and refusing to assimilate into their respective nations. By rejecting their nations, LGBT degenerates and Jews voluntarily make themselves social outcasts. They rely on the capitalist state to protect them and their image from the hostility of the masses whom they scorned. This is why both Jews and LGBT degenerates prefer to live in cosmopolitan societies that lack a cohesive national identity, where their artificial identities are more likely to be tolerated and accepted.

Labour aristocrats living in the imperialist and cosmopolitan global north, where LGBT is most prevalent, are not engaged in productive proletarian labour, leading to detachment from material reality which in turn creates a mind prone to delusion and LGBT mental illness. The promotion of LGBT causes depopulation and the proliferation of anti-social behaviour. Since homosexuals and transgenders deny basic biology and refuse to reproduce, they create more of their kind by grooming young, innocent and impressionable children, through adoption and the spreading of LGBT propaganda in schools. Supported by the capitalist state, which they claim is supposedly oppressing them, LGBT proponents spread their mental illness throughout society, infecting and indoctrinating people into believing their "woke" delusions.

Thus it is clear that LGBT ideology is completely incompatible with communist ideology. Homosexuals and transgenders will happily deny biological reality in order to maintain their delusions which work to justify their degenerate and deviant behaviours. On the other hand, you have true communists who constantly seek out the truth, creatively using the methodology of scientific socialism to rationally analyse the world and come up with revolutionary solutions for the societal problems plaguing humanity. Therefore any communist who supports the LGBT movement is not a true communist for they have abandoned the scientific socialist pursuit of truth in favour of liberal idealist fantasies. These pseudo-communists who attempt to justify their support for LGBT using Marxist terminology are either morally bankrupt charlatans who serve the bourgeoisie or woefully misguided idiots. Their bogus idea of "intersectional oppression", which claims that proletarian liberation shares a common struggle with the misanthropic LGBT movement, is promoted by bourgeois intellectuals in schools and universities to corrupt the minds and morals of the youth, while also further tainting the reputation of Marxism.

These pseudo-communists who claim that supporting LGBT rights is progressive are dead wrong. LGBT is not progressive in the Marxist sense at all since allowing LGBT mental illness to run rampant does not help the communist cause in the slightest, nor would it be tolerated in a socialist society as explained earlier. In reality, homosexuality is a reactionary relic from the primitive era of hunter-gatherer tribes that has persisted throughout history among the wealthy degenerate elites in slave society, feudalism and now capitalism, where it is popular with the bourgeoisie and labour aristocracy. Homosexuality is hedonistic degenerate behaviour which is a privilege of the wealthy, hence why it is most popular with the decadent elites of society but not so common amongst the working masses, throughout the different historical stages of human civilisation. That is why, in this day and age, you see the LGBT scourge spreading from the imperialist global north to the countries of the global south. Under the guise of advocating for "human rights", the lackeys of imperialism attempt to impose delusional anti-human LGBT ideas onto the working masses of the global south. While these misanthropic delusions may flourish in capitalist society, amongst the parasitic bourgeoisie and labour aristocracy, they have no place under socialism. In a socialist society where the bourgeois elites are overthrown and the working masses govern collectively, hedonistic degenerate behaviours such as homosexuality would not be tolerated and would eventually be fully eliminated from society.

Eliminating homosexuality from society is a positive goal to strive towards. It should not be seen as the suppression of personal liberties but rather the containment and treatment of a highly infectious and dangerous disease. No one is born that way. They choose to be that way and their choice can be influenced by many factors in their social environment and upbringing such as childhood trauma, parental abuse or neglect, negative experiences with the opposite sex, premature exposure to sex as a child, pornography, and belief in LGBT propaganda. Homosexuality and its more extreme variation transgenderism are mental illnesses that produce distorted worldviews revolving around their hedonistic and degenerate sexual fetishes. The homosexual sees the primary purpose of sex as pleasure instead of the scientifically correct answer of reproduction. Reproduction requires a man and a woman to partake in sexual intercourse. However, the homosexual refuses to reproduce and seeks only pleasure thus the object of their sexual desires is not limited to sexually mature members of the opposite sex. This means that children and animals become potential targets for the depraved sexual desires of the homosexual. Within the LGBT movement, there is a push to rebrand pedophiles as “minor attracted persons”. This is where the worldview of the homosexual leads. They will justify this depravity with the fraudulent claim that they are born with these perverse desires. Their refusal to reproduce also creates contempt for women who as mothers are the bearers and nurturers of life. Reducing the primary purpose of sex to hedonism leads to the objectification of the female body as merely a tool for acquiring pleasure. Transgender “women” reduce womanhood to superficially feminine appearances and stereotypes. This is a grave offense against women which undermines their dignity. Homosexuals and transgenders therefore pose a great threat to women and children. It should be clear by now that LGBT is a social evil that must be purged from society for the benefit of humanity. Any attempt to normalise this kind of mental illness should be condemned as an attack on basic human dignity and an attack on the family unit which must be protected and upheld as sacred.

To conclude, the LGBT movement has nothing to do with true communism. Any serious communist must condemn LGBT for being essentially a bourgeois movement. It is a misanthropic reactionary movement that pretends to be progressive. LGBT serves the left flank of imperialism and represents the interests of the cosmopolitan bourgeoisie and labour aristocrats living in the global north. The liberation of the proletariat has nothing to do with the proliferation of LGBT degenerates. This must be made clear to the working masses of the world to reverse the damage LGBT has done to the reputation of communism.

Let it be known that communism is not gay!
